SCHOOL FIGURES TO SHOW GREAT GAIN IS BELIEF

Floyd Sends Out Blanks To School Boards in the County Today.

TEACHERS PRAISED

Attendance Better Now Than Ever Before in County's History.

A new census of school children in Pontotoc county may show 13,000 enrolled in both rural and city schools, a gain of fully 1000 over the report for last year, according to a statement this morning from A. Floyd, county superintendent.

Blanks have been sent out to all school boards for the purpose of getting an accurate check on the census. These will be returned before February 1 and soon thereafter definite figures on the new school enrollment will be available, Mr. Floyd said.

Better average daily attendance than ever before has been reported throughout the county, many rural schools setting remarkable records for lack of tardiness and absence, the county superintendent said.

A list of taxpayers in each school district of the county also will be reported in the new 1922-23 school census.

In forwarding today blanks to school boards, Mr. Floyd stressed the importance of enumerating each child who will be over six years of age and under 21 on September 1, 1922. Each of these will be worth three or four dollars to the school, he has shown. Also, the tribe of Indians, if any, represented in each district is to be reported with a view to participating in federal appropriations provided for such purposes.

Each parent or guardian is required to sign the oath.

Highest Salary $3125.
Highest school salary paid in the county, according to a directory of teachers and superintendents recently issued, is $3125 a year and the lowest is $360. There is a total of 260 teachers employed in the county, including five in separate schools.

Commendation for good work being done in the school is included in a letter sent out to teachers and school boards today by Mr. Floyd. The letter follows:

"I have visited in every school during this term and many of them more than once. As a whole, I want to commend the teachers for their good work and co-operative spirit they are showing, also the boards and patrons for the interest they are taking in the improvement of the conditions of the school. Many of the school buildings have been remodelled, teacherages have been built and much equipment has been added. All of this is commendable and I hope and trust we will be more than doubly repaid for the money and effort expended, by rearing a higher and nobler type of citizenship from our boys and girls in which all wealth lies.

No Definite Plan.
"The very few teachers who are not accomplishing so much, I find, are those who have not a definite plan and a definite, fixed program, coupled with a lack of community interests.

'Bums' Take Shifts In Sleeping Since Jails Are Crowded

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 3.—Persons who are in the habit of cracking a statute now and then as a means of securing relief from the need of making a living in a cold, cruel world should NOT pick Tulsa as a good place to try their system. The Tulsa municipal jail, according to city officials, is so full that sleeping accommodations can be provided its enlarged clientele only in shifts, those who would commune with Morpheus being forced to do so in brief sessions while other weary ones pace the corridors and the bull pen awaiting their turn.

The Tulsa jail, constructed several years ago in that period of time some times referred to as wild and woolly, has been found inadequate to meet the advanced demands of the present day, police say. Built to restrain only 65 persons from the pursuit of their pet weakness, the structure has been groaning of late under the internal pressure of 110 inhabitants.

TAX PROBLEM IS DECLARED HEAVY

Assessors Wrestle Today
Trying for System of Uniform Valuation.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 3.—County assessors from practically every county in the state gathered today in the house chamber at the state house to consider problems confronting their offices during the remainder of the fiscal year. First consideration of the meeting was given to standardization of assessments, each assessor furnishing a list of various kinds of properties with their approximate values. These lists were to be studied later in the day with a view of reaching a uniform assessment system.

The meeting is being presided over by George Hines, assessor of Kay county. N. Harley off Muskogee county, is secretary and treasurer of the assessor's association.

Committees on resolutions, legislation and valuations were to be appointed this afternoon and a report from the resolutions committee was expected to be made before adjournment this evening.

In opening the meeting President Hines referred to the problems confronting the assessors this year as being unusually complicated as a result of recent rapid fluctuations in property values incident to the period of re-adjustment following the war. He declared that the assessors would be forced this year to exert every effort to assess properly the property in the state.

No state officials were scheduled to address the convention.

ALLEGED MURDERER IS TRANSFERRED TO COUNTY

TULSA, Jan. 3.—Jess Jackson, who according to the police, shot and killed D. B. Smith, his brother-in-law, at the Jackson home Saturday night, was removed from the city to the county jail today and murder charges filed against him by Tom Wallace, assistant county attorney. Jackson is expected to have his preliminary hearing Thursday or Friday.

CHICAGO MERGER ENDS BIG ISSUE

Most Serious Difficulty in Windy City for Sixteen Years Is Settled.

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—The Continental and Commercial Banks and the Continental Bank and Commercial Trust and Savings Banks today formed the second largest banking institution in the United States and the largest west of New York through absorbing of the Fort Dearborn National Bank and its affiliated institution, the Fort Dearborn Trust and Savings Bank. The merger ended what was described as the most serious difficulty which had threatened Chicago financial districts in 16 years.

The deal was announced late last night after an all day session of the Chicago Clearing House association and leading financiers, the Continental and Commercial institutions agreeing to assume liabilities of $60,000,000.

The deal puts the deposits of the four banking institutions at more than $400,000,000, and total resources at a figure greater than $525,000,000.

Difficulty of the Fort Dearborn institution were attributed to over extension of credit.

Hays' Found Guilty On Liquor Charge When Court Opens

One case a day was the record started yesterday by the county court when it entered upon the first of three dockets which will keep the tribunal in constant grind at least until January 16.

Jess Hays, charged with unlawful possession of liquor, was found guilty by a jury late yesterday and his penalty fixed at 60 days in the county jail and $250. Notice of appeal was immediately filed. When the non-jury cases are opened they can be run off at a much faster rate, it is believed.

The criminal docket of the court is scheduled to last until January 9 when the court will take up the consideration of a lengthy civil docket before undertaking a string of city appeal cases January 12. There are more than 50 liquor cases filed for hearing on the criminal docket now open.

DIRECTORS C. OF C. WILL MEET TONIGHT

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce will meet in a regular session this evening at 7:30. Any one interested is invited to attend.

King of Spain has had an airplane made for his private use.

WOMAN BECOMES BOSS OVER STATE FIRE OFFICE

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 3.—Another of the strongholds of man fell yesterday before the advance of womanhood when Mrs. Nola Landers, pretty young assistant state fire marshal, pulled down the top of her desk in the state capitol and turned her thoughts toward making obstreperous landlord obey the state fire laws.

Tomorrow Mrs. Landers is to take up her duties as state fire inspector, the first time such a position has been held in Oklahoma by a woman. She has previously been in charge of the clerical work of the fire marshal's office.

Mrs. Landers is to travel over the state inspecting buildings, and will have authority to bring complaints in court against persons who refuse to accept her instructions. The fire marshal's office employs two men inspectors.

FEBRUARY 6 SET FOR BOND TRIAL

Maxwell Petitioners Get a Temporary Injunction
On $30,000 Deal.

A temporary restraining order, setting February 6 as a date for a final hearing on the petition, was signed and returned this morning by District Judge J. W. Bolen on a document filed yesterday in the district court by E. W. Cotton and T. A. Starrit asking that the board of county commissioners be enjoined from selling $30,000 in bonds voted recently by Maxwell township.

The defendants have been given 20 days' notice of the hearing. The petition asking for the temporary injunction and, ultimately, a final injunction, charged that voters of Maxwell township did not understand thoroughly the issue upon which they voted.

NO FRAUD EVIDENT AUDITORS REPORTED

It has been called to the attention of the News that in the report of the preliminary hearing of W. E. Jones last Saturday, one essential statement of the auditors was overlooked. They are reported to have said that they found no evidence in the books of attempted fraud on the part of Mr. Jones. The News takes pleasure in giving this information now.

GERMANY'S FLAG FLUTTERS IN N. Y.

But Picture of Emperor
William Is Missing in New Offices.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Germany's flag today reappeared among those of other nations which fly over the tall buildings of New York's financial and shipping districts.

It was unfurled from the same flag pole atop number 11 Broadway from which it was hauled down in the spring of 1917, and marked the location of the re-established consular office of the New German Republic.

For more than a week representatives of the Consular General Carl Lang—temporary charge d'affaires of his government at Washington—had been preparing for the re-opening of the offices. A score of desks, filing cases and a couple of steel safes were moved across the hall from the Swiss consular office, where they were kept during the war. Among the furnishings, missing, however, was an oil painting of former Emperor William. The old consular seal had also been discarded and the official stationery took on the dress of the new Germany.

POISONED LIQUORS CLAIM MANY DEATHS IN N. Y. HOSPITALS

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Five more victims of poisonous drinks were taken to hospitals in critical conditions before noon.

Two were women, one of whom was found lying unconscious in an apartment house entrance.

Three deaths by violence were reported to police.

Blance Keller and Charles Himer both 28, were found dead of bullet wounds in Himer's apartment early this morning. The police are working on a murder and suicide theory.

Thomas Kenny, proprietor of a soft drink parlor, was shot and killed in his establishment. Peter Parant, a state prohibition enforcement officer, was arrested on a charge of homicide.

OKLAHOMA WEATHER

Tonight unsettled, rain in east portion, cooler in north and west portions. Wednesday probably fair, colder.

Fire Ruins Office Building.

EUFAULA, Ala., Jan. 3.—Fire of an undetermined origin today destroyed the Foy-Whitlock office building here, causing an estimated loss of $200,000.

Ada Klan Makes $25 Gift To Local High School Association

Receipt of $25 in bills from Ada Klan No. 27, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, to be applied to the fund of the high school athletic association, was announced this morning by A. L. Fentem, principal.

As far as is known, this is the first donation outside of charitable offerings, that has been made by the local Klan.

By means of the press, Mr. Fentem has acknowledged receipt of the gift and has issued a statement of thanks to the Ku Klux for their "timely help." The athletic association, he said, is perhaps the most important side organization of the school in that it embraces every line of collateral activity of Ada High. This not only supports athletics but also sponsors debate, dramatic musical organizations, religious associations, and every line in which students participate.

There was no explanatory statement sent with the donation other than that the Klan was interested in the public schools and were backing the high school to the limit.

ADA BATTERY IS WELL EQUIPPED

$250,000 in Government
Material Fits Local Outfit Complete.

The last shipment of equipment for Battery F, 160th field artillery, O. N. G., was received here yesterday and is being unloaded. This puts Battery F among the best equipped in the state and nothing is lacking that goes to make a complete battery. Officers of the company indicated that drill would be started soon to prepare the men to be able to respond on short order to any call.

Included in the shipment were range finders, officers' telescopes, steel helmets, 50 tarpaulins, 2 Browning machine guns, 10 boxes of ammunition, sub-calibre and practice cartridges, 8 Browning automatic rifles, 86 pistols, 45 calibers; 1 box of sights for large guns, and a lot of smaller and less important equipment.

This puts the battery to its full quota of about $250,000 worth of government army stuff. A Liberty truck is also to be added to this for joint use of the headquarters company and Battery F, the truck is to be brought to the city in a few weeks.

A building has been rented and will be converted into an armory. The building on East Main street formerly occupied by the People's Drug Store, is to be used by the two companies. Captains Byron Sledge and Robert S. Kerr were in Oklahoma City last week to purchase two pool tables, a billiard table and a box ball alley, all of which will be added to the furnishings of the armory.

Card tables, reading facilities, boxing, wrestling and other athletic equipment will be open to the men. The two companies have joined in securing such things and through co-operation the officers hope to make the time of men in the national guard well spent.

Alfred Vaden, a member of the postoffice force, arrived home today from Ardmore where he has been visiting relatives and friends for the past few days.

DEMOCRATS OVER STATE PLAN RALLY IN PRECINCT SESSIONS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 3.—Sounding the first political battlecry of the new year, Ben F. Lafayette, chairman of the democratic state central committee, has issued a call for the holding of precinct conventions Friday, January 13. The meetings are to be held at 2 o'clock in the afternoon in all towns and communities and at 8 o'clock at night in cities of the first class and cities having commission and managerial government.

At these meetings precinct officials are to be chosen. Letters are being mailed throughout the state to democrats calling attention to the meetings.

An appeal to bear in mind that the democratic women voters in the precincts have equal voice with the men in choosing the precinct committee is contained in the letter, along with an appeal for all to work for party harmony and party success and the re-establishment of the former democratic majority in the state.

Committee To Meet in February

Meanwhile women of the state are busy organizing and there already has been organized a club of democratic women in every county in the state, with more clubs to be formed, according to Mrs. R. L. Fite, chairman of the woman's bureau of the state central committee. About twenty clubs have been formed by young men of the state and the Young Men's Democratic club movement is growing, Lafayette said.

Within fifteen days after the precinct meetings, the county meetings are to be held and a similar selection of officials made. A meeting of the state central committee is to be held the latter part of February as required in the committee's constitution. The large amount of work before both the precinct and county meetings will make it impossible to hold the meeting sooner, it was said.

In each precinct a precinct committee of seven members is to be elected. The chairman and vice-chairman must be of opposite sexes.

Many a man's New Year Resolution to arise early is apt to become wavering and sickly when Friend Wife refuses to get up and start the fire; such is human nature!

MAXWELL VOTERS NOT DELUDED IN VOTING BONDS, BOARD SAYS

THAT the petition filed in the district court by E. W. Cotton and T. A. Starrit, asking for an injunction against the issuance of bonds in Maxwell Township, is the result of ignorance and misrepresentation is the opinion of J. I. Laughlin, H. C. Stephens and W. H. Brents, members of the board of County Commissioners, expressed this morning. The members state emphatically that the bond issue was voted with the full knowledge of the conditions, that the county commissioner or county clerk took no part in the election, and that there is no reason why the bonds should not be issued and the roads built as specified. "While the Piersol Bonding Company helped prepare the proceedings it was clearly with the specification that it would receive nothing unless the bonds were voted and in that event only a small fraction of one percent. Any statement to the contrary is absolutely false. Naturally the bonding company was expected to bid for the bonds, but it would have to bid as high or higher than any other company before it could get them," Mr. Laughlin, chairman, said. "There was not and could not be any contract made with any company to sell the bonds to it before the election." "Moreover, we had at our command some of the best bond men in the country, and this was for the protection of the taxpayers. We did not want to take chances on the bonds being voted in such a way that they would not bring the highest price on the market." Voters Not Mistaken "We have talked to citizens in Maxwell township. With a very few exceptions, the people there want us to go ahead and build the culverts and roads. They were not mistaken in what they were voting for. They realized that if the county bridge issue failed, and the township bonds carried, there would be only $30,000 for the township to spend. "The men who filed the petition fought the bond issue, and this is merely an attempt to thwart the will of the people. So far as we can go, we expect to protect the people of Maxwell township who have said they want to have better roads and have voted without question the $30,000 in bonds."

SPROUL TO TAKE PENROSE'S PLACE WATSON THINKS

Pennsylvania Governor May Resign Within 48 Hours. It Is Believed.

NEWBERRY CASE SOON

Republicans Would Speed Up Appointment Since Vote Is Close.

(By the Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Predictions that Governor Sproul of Pennsylvania, would within 48 hours announce his intention of resigning to accept appointment as United States senator to succeed the late Boies Penrose, was made today by Senator Watson of Indiana, one of the republican leaders of the senate, after a consultation at the White House. Senator Watson said that he had been in conversation with the Pennsylvania governor several times by telephone and that in his opinion the matter was practically settled. The particular reason which induced the senate republicans to urge speed in the filling of the vacancy is understood to be the approaching vote on the Ford-Newberry election contest, which Senator Watson said probably would be close. Governor Sproul would have to resign to take an appointment to the senate at the hands of the present lieutenant governor. Big Change Involved. Far reaching political changes, affecting both domestic and international affairs, have loomed up as the result of the death of Senator Penrose. While his senatorial colleagues were paying him tributes of respect, there was buzzing about capitol corridors and elsewhere where politicians gather the hum of speculation that always follows the passing of a notable figure from the country's arena. First in interest came his successor in the senate and in the chairmanship of the powerful finance committee. Governor Sproul appointed a few weeks ago a successor to the late Senator Knox and is again looked to to name the man who will fill Penrose's seat until the people elect a successor next fall. Sproul himself wanted to come to the senate as Penrose's successor. Penrose's term would not have expired until 1927. When Knox died on October 12 some thought Sproul would resign the governorship to succeed him but he appointed instead one of his supporters, William E. Crow, from the western end of the state. Now the situation is different. Sproul is an eastern Pennsylvanian, as Penrose was. Sproul indicated in the Knox case that he was averse to giving up the state office to which he was elected, merely to gratify a natural ambition to go higher. It is not believed he will do anything he thinks might prejudice his availability later on as his party's candidate for the presidency. McCumber Next in Line. As to the chairmanship of the finance committee, it was generally assumed that Porter J. McCumber of North Dakota would succeed Penrose. He is entitled to the chairmanship under the seniority rule. If McCumber, as expected, takes (Continued on Page Three)

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

GREAT POWER FROM GOD:—Behold, I give unto you power to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy; and nothing shall by any means hurt you.—Luke 10:19.

THE FRENCH ATTITUDE.

A rift has appeared in the lute upon which the disarmament conference was beginning to play a march of peace. The French are the parties guilty of causing the trouble. They flatly refuse to agree on cutting down the submarine building program and it has come to be a question of agreeing to French terms of calling off the whole proposition of limiting armaments. France is staggering under a stupendous public debt somewhere up near forty billion dollars. She owes the United States an immense sum upon which she is not even paying the interest, but in the face of national bankruptcy she insists on maintaining an expensive military and naval program. On one hand France seeks a cancellation of the debt to America and on the other insists that she must be permitted to expend millions on more armament. Such a course will not help her cause any in this country.

Of course the underlying motive may possibly be fear of another German invasion, but there is also ground for suspicion that France has not lost all of her admiration for Napoleon and still harks back to the days when French bayonets glittered from the mouth of the Tagus to the Vistula. Before the meeting of the Versailles conference Clemenceau ridiculed the idea of a league of nations considering the old order of things with France the strongest continental power good enough for him. At all events developments since the signing of the armistice prove that the European nations have not lost any of their selfishness and have not taken Wilson's ideals to heart to any noticeable extent. It is still every fellow for himself and the devil take the hindmost. Necessity and force are the only arguments very well understood over there. The United States may prefer her former splendid isolation, but with billions of dollars owing this government by Europe necessity will force the United States to exercise enough influence in European politics to compel peace and eventually collect what is owing us. Certainly this will never be if there is any more war in Europe for a long time to come.

A Berlin dispatch states that at the request of his family Trotsky, the bolshevik leader of Russia, was recently publicly expelled from the Jewish church. Even his own family could not tolerate his infamous careers as leader of the red revolution, and took this means of disowning him. Although there is little to commend in Trotsky's career, it may be regarded as an awful retribution on the Russian nation that a Jew has worked so much woe on it. Russia has long been a vindictive persecutor of the Jews and not a year passed that did not witness a massacre or two of Jews, just as the Armenians were butchered by the Turks. Now the wheel of fortune has turned, a Jew has come into power and the other elements of the population are having a taste of the sufferings formerly heaped upon the Jews. Two wrongs do not make a right, but the law of retribution is one that cannot be repealed. What a man or nation sows must be reaped, although in either case it is the innocent who must bear much of the suffering as a result of the wickedness of others.

The death of Senator Penrose removes one of the leaders of the Republican party at a very critical time. Penrose has long occupied a commanding position in the councils of the party and would have had much to do in shaping legislation during the next few years. Since the days of Aldrich and Hale, Penrose, Smoot and Lodge have been the recognized heads of the party in the senate, but they could never command the unwavering support of their colleagues that Aldrich and Hale did. With removal of Penrose from the stage of action the question of leadership of the senate will be rather uncertain. Penrose was always strongly conservative and his death may possibly give the progressive element of the party a greater influence in shaping party policy and national legislation.

Ada recently passed her twenty-first birthday as a railroad town. She is a very lusty young lady, thank you, and in another decade promises to outstrip many more of her old sisters in Oklahoma as she has done in the past. With her steady and substantial growth Ada attains her majority in the bloom of health and full of confidence for the future. Ada has learned to move in only one direction—forward. She owes her growth and healthy development to a bunch of boosters who gave the infant careful attention and whose number was augmented as the infant grew in years and stature.

Your 30 Slaves.

(Wichita Times)
Take away all our machinery and steam and electrical power, and it would require 3,000,000,000 hard-working slaves to duplicate the work done by Americans.

The use of power and machinery gives to every man, woman and child in our country the equivalent of 30 slaves.

This is figured out in the latest bulletin of the Smithsonian Institution.

Why envy the nobleman, back in ancient Egypt or Bagdad, with 30 slaves toiling for him?

He had swift-running slaves bring him fish from the ocean and bird tongues from the mountains.

Today, with a few dimes, you can get a tin can of shrimp brought from Japan, a package of dates from Syria, a bag of nuts from Brazil, sardines from Norway.

Your slaves—machinery and power—bring them.

For a few cents, you can buy enough matches to start 1000 fires. When the ancient nobleman's fire was doused by the rain, he shivered in the cold until slaves made a blaze by friction or brought fire-brands from afar.

Plenty of old settlers, now living, can recall the days before matches, when they ran a mile from the nearest neighbor's with a shovelful of blazing coals.

Your real wealth is measured, not in money, but in the number of things you obtain to eat and wear, the ease with which you get them, the comforts and conveniences of your home, methods of transportation and amusement.

It is only a few centuries since even the richest kings had no sewerage, running water, rapid transportation or any of the commonplace things that brighten the lives of all today.

Each year adds to our comforts and conveniences.

A few years ago, only the richest men in town had autos. Now there's an auto for every 12 Americans.

Henry Ford is experimenting with a mixture of glue, cotton and formaldehyde. He expects to make a powerful building material out of these. If he succeeds, he'll stamp filberts out like doughnuts.

That seems like a dream. But it is merely typical of the processes of mass production that have given the average person luxuries that were denied the kings of antiquity.

Measured in ancient standards, we are all kings today, with the slaves of electricity, steam and machinery toiling constantly for us.

"How An Ex-President Should Act"

(Muskogee Phoenix)

Mr. Woodrow Wilson has just celebrated his sixty-fifth birthday. It wasn't much of a "celebration," perhaps, for this bent "old man" who only a few years before had known the applause of multitudes and had heard the praise of kings.

A short time ago a hero of France, a "saviour of the world," an idol in the eyes of his own people, he Wednesday passed the sixty-fifth mile stone of his eventful life, almost alone. Telegrams that came to him were much of the perfunctory sort that one might expect from old friends and men whom had served under him. There was little acclaim in the press, he had apparently been almost forgotten.

And Woodrow Wilson has been forgotten because it is he who has willed it so. That he no longer is in the limelight is not to his discredit; the contrary. It will be remembered that as he retired to private life he answered a reporter's question as to what he proposed to do, with the reply that he "intended to show the people how an ex-president should act." Let the historians record that, thus far at least, he has been true to his determination. His temptations have been great yet he has held his peace. There have been times that he might have greatly hampered the man who so overwhelmingly defeated the policies he cherished but he has been silent. Politicians have urged him to again hurl himself into the battle and he has declined.

There is no precedent that requires an ex-president to take a back seat; Roosevelt gave us one altogether different. But Woodrow Wilson, to this time, has played the game squarely in our humble estimation at least, has shown us how an ex-president should conduct himself.

SCHOOL FIGURES TO SHOW GREAT GAIN

"The teachers who succeed are those who have a definitely arranged program and carry it out to the minute as far as practical. They plan their work each day, take interest in the general welfare and home environments of their pupils, and lose sight of the pay check as the only remuneration or reward for their services. To those who are negligent on these four points, let me urge upon you to improve them. Any assistance which I am able to give is at your command."

"Expressing to you my appreciation of your work and co-operation I beg to remain,
Yours sincerely,
"A. FLOYD, Co. Superintendent."

FEDERAL COURT OPENS AT CAPITAL JANUARY 16

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 2.—Federal district court will convene here January 16. It was announced today officially. Of foremost interest of the criminal cases on the docket for trial at this time is the Santa Fe mail train robbery near Edmond several months ago for which six men are now being held at Guthrie.

"LITTLE AFRICA" NEAR NORMALCY AFTER DISASTER

(By the Associated Press)

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 3.—Tulsa's negro section, wiped out in part by the conflagration which swept the district as an aftermath of the race rioting of last June, is again approaching a condition of normalcy. The tented city that sprang up in the wake of the flames and offered shelter to hundreds of homeless negroes, has been replaced in large measure by comfortable two-room houses. Ninety of these houses have been built, largely through efforts of the American Red Cross which has acted as agent of a number of relief organizations contributing to the alleviation of the negroes' condition.

In addition to the homes which have been put up, several one, two and three-story business buildings have been erected out of the ashes of former structures, which disappeared in the swirl of angry flames that terminated the race warfare. These buildings have been built not only by negro merchants, but by white men whose property, which had been rented to negroes, was destroyed.

The negro dwellings put up through the Red Cross cost approximately $150 each. Many other homes have been erected by negroes who had funds to replace their lost dwellings.

A hospital is being erected by the negroes under the supervision of the Red Cross, which is also conducting classes in sewing for the negro women, teaching them to make supplies needed in the hospital and in their homes.

The new year, according to housing experts, saw a better negro section in Tulsa than existed before the fire, the district having been planned as a unit in its rebuilding and therefore designed more uniformly than its predecessor.

RUMOR LINKS HER NAME WITH CHAPLIN'S, BUT CLAIRE WINDSOR SAYS NOTHING

Claire Windsor.

Claire Windsor, the pretty screen actress whose name has been linked with Charlie Chaplin's by a rumor, turns her pretty back upon inquisitive reporters and will say nothing about the comedian save that he "is a nice man." Then she will look searchingly into her mirror with her dazzling but inscrutable face taking on a serious expression and all reporters forget there ever was a Charlie Chaplin on earth.

of one boy has done a good turn for his neighbors and his word is still going forward.

I have published a few letters from boys and girls of Pontotoc county concerning their club work. However, I would like to hear from others, either individuals or clubs as a whole. Tell us what you are doing, and what you are learning. This is interesting reading to me and I believe it is equally interesting to hundreds of others. Among others we would like to hear from some of the boys who have had experience fattening hogs for home use or for market this fall and winter.

Occasionally some one rakes me over the coals about some story of how this or that farmer is making a success in some line by following certain methods, claiming that some other method is far better. Well, perhaps so. It is my object to tell how men are making a success of some particular line. Perhaps a different environment will make one man's method impractical in some other locality and perhaps another man finds it easier to reach the same result in a different way. No hard and fast rule can be applied to any method of farming, in fact, different weather conditions may necessitate frequent changes of methods, but what I want to get at is how different farmers do make a success in various lines and then let the other fellow judge for himself. The great point about any business is to think out and apply the best methods. A merchant, banker or newspaper man who insisted on staying in the old path beaten out half a century ago would soon find himself outdistanced by more progressive competitors who changed their methods as conditions changed and who were ready to recognize a plan better than their own when it was presented or think out one of their own.

PRISONERS SAY TERM IN SOVIET JAIL WAS GOOD

(By the Associated Press)

MOSCOW, Jan. 3.—The majority of political prisoners, men and women, being released from Soviet prisons speak with satisfaction of their imprisonment as "a great experience." While they are not at all anxious to renew the experience, they insist that it did them good.

As being locked up in Russia has become a sort of habit, there is no shame attached to imprisonment, and those released seem proud of their time spent behind bars.

The women prisoners feel that they have seen a novel side of life and, while rich in their abuse of the conditions of their imprisonment, invariably wind up their recital by saying theirs was a great and valuable experience.

Instead of punishing these people, it would almost seem the Soviet government had conferred a distinct benefit on them by locking them up. The solitude of prison life, with its opportunity for self-acquaintance, appealed to Miss Alexandra Tolstol, daughter of the great writer, who was locked up once for eight months at a stretch.

A Georgian princess spoke enthusiastically of the opportunity out of her imprisonment because it confirmed her belief in God. She related how, after months of slow travel in a prison train on her way to Achaengal, she fell ill with the typhus, after which she was, by some mischance, put in solitary confinement. She broke down under the strain, she stated, and fervently prayed for release, and it came within the day.

Another woman, once wealthy, declared that her imprisonment had taught her the Communist regime was no worse than an improvement on the old imperial one. Thrown among people of her own class in prison, she found them selfish and unwilling to share their food, cigarettes and blankets, as was the case of the plain soldiers of the peasant class alive in the same prison.

"The human mask of convention and politeness dropped from the educated people and their fears and selfishness shone plain for all to read," said this woman, "this mill of suffering and bloodshed and revolution has been a needful lesson. It is an impulse towards a new life."

POSTAL WORKERS COMMENDED FOR HANDLING RUSH

All postoffices have been heartily commended on the way they handled the Christmas rush in a letter issued by Will Hays, postmaster general. A copy of the letter has been transmitted to the Ada office where an unusually light amount of confusion due to excessive holiday business has been reported.

The letter, in part, follows:

"At no time in the history of the Postal service have the mails been handled so expeditiously and with so small amount of damage during the Christmas rush as in the year 1921. The tremendous campaign conducted by the Post Office Department during the past six months for early mailing, especially during the Christmas time, has resulted in a clearing of the mail channels of this tremendous load from two to three days ahead of any other year. On Christmas Eve reports from every gateway of the Postal Service showed that the mail service was back to normal. This splendid record is entirely due to the co-operation of the newspapers and magazines, the business men and business organizations, the public schools, the women's organizations, cartoonists, news photographers and moving-picture concerns, and to the public in general, as well as the loyal and faithful service of the postal workers themselves.

"It can not be emphasized too strongly that the spirit in which any work is undertaken is an important factor in accomplishment. The postal workers have taken a certain pride in establishing a good record of service during the year 1921, and especially during the Christmas period. The public has also caught the spirit of service in their mail-order co-operation because of the spirit of service characterizing the work of the whole Postal Service.

"The campaign for early mailing, proper packing and addressing of mail, which has been intensively conducted by the Post Office Department for the past six months with such impressive results, will be conducted right on throughout the coming year. The public have seen the good results of their efforts and it is the purpose of the postal management to keep continually before them the fact that they are the direct beneficiaries of quicker dispatch of mail, with less expense and more profit to them.

Mrs. Watson in Musical.

A rare artistic program was rendered in the Macmillan studio Saturday afternoon when Mrs. Watson, of Columbus, Ohio, sang for Mrs. Macmillan's voice pupils and a few specially invited guests.

The singer, who is a brilliant soprano, gave a varied program ranging from grand opera and other difficult selections to the ultra modern school, the whole being interspersed with simple ballads both lyric and dramatic. In all of these she was equally at home. If one selection stood out above the others it was "One Fine Day," from "Madame Butterfly."

Mrs. Watson's drawing personality with which she responded with specially requested numbers added much to the general effect. All present expressed their deep appreciation of the musical treat.

At the beginning of the program the artist graciously heard two of Mrs. Macmillan's pupils. Mrs. Watson was accompanied by Miss Eunice McNew.

Morgan-Wilson
W. H. Morgan of Enid, Okla., and Miss Arline Wilson of Okemah, Okla., were married Christmas eve at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Wilson, of near Okemah. Mr. and Mrs. Morgan left Okemah Wednesday of last week for Enid, where they will make their home.

The bride, a former student of the Teachers College here, has a large number of friends in the college and city. She was teaching at the time of her marriage, having obtained her certificate from her work in the local college. The announcement of her wedding was received with surprise and pleasure here today by friends.

He has been a resident of Ada for about twenty years and has made himself felt in the city in every movement for progress and right living. His sterling worth and integrity have never been questioned.

During his time in Ada, he has been connected with the city government in various ways. He has worked on the pipe lines and superintended work on the walks and streets. He knows the needs of the city and what a mayor should do to keep law and order and other wise make Ada a place in which any one should be proud to live. The Captain has also had experience in larger cities. For several years he was on the police force of Dallas, fighting crooks and gamblers. For more than a year he has served as justice of the peace and has made an enviable record for doing his duty without fear or favor.

Captain Fisher moved to Ada from Texas, where he was reared. His whole life has been spent in the Southwest and has been devoted to building up good citizenship and prosperous residence sections.

The Captain's friends say that if he is nominated and elected, he will give an honest, conscientious, efficient and progressive administration. He will have no pets, will demand a hundred cents for every dollar spent and will keep an eye on everything connected with the city government.

BATTLES GRAVE TODAY IN BELFAST FIGHTING

(By the Associated Press)
BELFAST, Jan. 2.—Scattered exchange of shots that has been progressing for 24 hours or more between members of rival factions here without serious result became graver today. In the early hours two men were shot and badly wounded. Another man was slightly wounded when a bullet grazed his neck.

Dopesters Get Severe
Shock as City League
Teams Change Records

Four teams were in action again last night following a week's vacation on account of the Christmas holidays. Members of the Lions Club who came out were given an exhibition of some good playing, although the teams were not in top form. Battery F, the team that has been making great strides in its campaign for a victorious season, smothered the Cement plant 27-9, and the Business college staged a come-back in the form of a 20 to 14 victory over the News team.

Fewer personal fouls were called in both games and less roughness was evident. Improper team work by the battery men and efforts to pull individual stuff by many of the players on the teams was the cause of the score being small in all instances. Goal shooting by every team on the floor last night was worse than in the opening games, and few goals were shot from difficult positions. Many were missed by forwards who were given good openings time and again.

In the Battery-Cement game, pep was lacking. Seldom did the teams get up tight enough to make the game interesting, and only when the Cement men threatened to take the lead in the first half did the Battery men wake up long enough to fight. The last half featured better goal shooting for the battery. Jobs getting four from the field. K. Hensley of the Cement team took two goals in the game, both from a difficult position.

Smothering guard work by Payne and Worsley kept the dangerous forward, Smith, of the cement team from getting in much telling work. The Battery team lost many chances to score on account of players trying for individual honors. Team work was lacking, and although the squad was not hard pushed, it was held to a score which could have proved disastrous had the cement men got going right at almost any point in the game.

New Lineup Used.
A new lineup was used by the Business College and Newcomb, leading forward of the team, broke through the guards of the News team and took five goals from the field in the last half. This put the game on ice for his team. It was not until the last three minutes, however, that the Business college was assured of victory. The first half ended with the score 7 to 6 for the Business college. A partly new lineup was used by the News team.

The games last night upset all dope, except that favoring the Battery team. All teams that before the holidays promised to do something this week, seemed to have slumped while those which least expected to do something were in better form. Dope hounds who have been willing to hand out information on the league teams are today more uncertain than ever. At least the standing of teams has taken a more definite aspect.

PAT WOULD SWAP GROH, KOPF, WINGO FOR NEW BUNCH, PIRATES PREFERRED

By NORMAN E. BROWN.

Patrik Moran, genial manager of the Cincinnati Reds, would like to pile a load of his ball players into the tonneau of his auto some mild day this winter and drive over to Pittsburgh with them, drop them there and bring home a new grist from the Pirate mill. At least that's the granddope.

It has been known for some time that Moran wants to make radical changes in the personnel of his Reds before next season. Heinie Groh has been trying to get away from Redville for over a year. Judge Landis last year prevented a deal whereby Groh hoped to join the Giants—which makes Groh a bit hotter every time he recalls the Giant player's slice of the world's series. But from a standpoint of principle Landis' decision could not be questioned.

Now, it is said, Moran would like to trade Groh, Catcher Ivy Wingo, Infielder Larry Kopf and a pitcher to the Pirates for the five—or part the smoky city team has said he wants to ditch. These five are Jim Zinn, Carl Barnhart, Cotton Tierney, Wallie Schmidt and George Whitted. The first three mentioned are youngsters and Moran realizes the need for starting to rebuild his team. That he would send the veteran Wingo to Pittsburgh only to get Wallie Schmidt, another veteran backstop, seems unlikely.

If Groh does go to the Pirates in any such deal it is probable that the Pittsburgh club will take him only to use him in another deal with the Giants, as McGraw still hopes to land the infielder. The Pirates could well use Larry Kopf in their infield.

Weatherford Places
Trust in Six Letter
Men Back on Court

WEATHERFORD, Okla., Jan. 3.—Southwestern State Teachers' College, here, is ready to start a driving offensive toward the state collegiate basketball championship when time is called for the first game of the season on the local floor January 7. Six letter men are back this year and a number of promising high school recruits are competing for berths on the squad.

The schedule as announced is: January 7, Oklahoma City College at Weatherford; January 9-10, East Central Teachers College at Ada; January 20-21, Phillips University at Weatherford; January 26-27, Central State Teachers' College at Edmond; February 1-2, Oklahoma Baptist University at Shawnee; February 3-4, Oklahoma A. & M. College at Stillwater; February 15-16, Kingfisher College at Kingfisher; February 17-18, Phillips University at Enid; and February 23-24 Central State Teachers college at Weatherford.

Rankin Williams of Weatherford is captain of this year's quintet, and Coach John F. Lance, who has been guiding Southwestern caging teams for three years, is again at the helm. Lance formerly played on the Pittsburg, Kan., normal team and was named all state forward in 1916. He has turned out winning teams since coming to Southwestern the team last year finishing the season with 21 games to its credit against three lost. In the three years that Lance has directed basketball teams here he has won 52 games and lost 10.

Charged Monday with grand larceny, Joe Shoat was preparing this morning to make bond for $1,000 before Justice of the Peace H. J. Brown for appearance at his preliminary hearing January 16.

Shoat was arrested on a charge of stealing a pair of tongs from the equipment at the Kingwood oil well, this county. All preliminaries have been set forward at least two weeks because of the fact that the county attorney and his assistant are busy with hearings in the county court, Judge Brown said.

Durant College To Meet East Central
In Double Contest

(By the Associated Press)
DURANT, Okla., Jan. 3.—With three of last year's quintet ready to enter this season's schedule and a group of promising new high school men ready to put on South-eastern colors, basketball prospects at the Southeastern State Teachers College here are said to be bright. Coach Reuben W. Bell a former William Jewell college athlete and for three years coach of athletics at the McAlester high school, has undertaken the task of shaping the teachers into a winning combination. He is putting them through strenuous practice and says he hopes to have a fast lineup when the whistle blows for the first affray here January 12.

The three veterans around whom Coach Bell plans to build his team are Fred Craig, Boswell; Carl Halback, Durant, and Houston Tyree, Durant. The new men whose capers on the polished floor have caused the coach to watch them with most favor are Brennon Witt, Durant; Robert Beatty, Durant; Sam Roberts, McAlester; Paul Goodman, Ardmore; Oscar Fontaine, Hugo, and Ernest Gledney, Ada.
The team this year will be captained by Fred Craig. The records of last year's team was only two games won, but prospects are much better as the 1922 season opens, Coach Bell believes.
The schedules announced is: January 12 and 13, Oklahoma Baptist University at Durant; January 16, Oklahoma City College at Oklahoma City; January 17, Central State Teachers College at Edmond; January 18, Phillips University at Enid; January 19, Kingfisher College at Kingfisher; February 3 and 4, East Central State Teachers College at Durant; February 15, East Central at Ada; February 16 and 17, Oklahoma Baptist University at Shawnee; January 23 and 31, February 6, 14 and 17 and March 10 are listed as open dates.

Snyder Buy Aggie Captain.
STILLWATER, Okla., Jan. 3.—Ernest "Pug" Etheridge of Snyder, has been chosen as captain-elect of the 1922 football squad at the Oklahoma A. & M. college.

Etheridge was an all-state selection for tackle last season and was rated as one of the Aggies' best men. He has played three seasons at the A. & M. college—1917, 1918, 1921. He will be eligible next year in both the Missouri Valley and Southwestern conferences.

Clark, chief, was to the effect that funds were not sufficient to maintain the present force. Several of the men released had been officers for several years.

WOMEN WILL BE GUESTS AT LION MEETING JAN. 17

The Lions Club will have the women as guests at the next regular meeting, January 17, meeting at 7:45 in the evening. This was the plan as outlined at the regular semi-monthly meeting at the Harris hotel this noon. A committee consisting of W. E. Harvey, T. B. Blake and B. H. Epperson, will make arrangements. Dr. Sam McKee, Harmon Ebey and Dr. A. Linscheid will arrange the program.

The meeting was not well attended, due to the urgent business resulting from the New Year. The meeting was not without interest, however, and enthusiasm predominated. Notice was given that W. L. Whitaker is preparing a report on the developed resources of Ada which will be given at a future meeting.

A committee composed of F. L. Finley, W. G. Moser and Langford Shaw was appointed to confer with Foster McSwain in reference to the theatre situation in the city.

Robert Wimblish was appointed lion tamer, whose duty it will be to tame the young lions when they enter the dens.

M. M. Harwell, agent of the Katy, explained the reduced freight rates and said he would do what he could to get others which affect this county.

The Club was delighted with a short talk by A. D. McMillan of Toronto, Canada, who was a guest of Langford Shaw. Mr. McMillan is visiting the family of his brother-in-law, B. Diefenderfer, superintendent of the quarries at Lawrence.
